NCRC MOBILE APP PRIVACY POLICY

Information we may need to collect from you

During the reporting of crime, we may request for your telephone number and your email address but this information is not mandatory. The provided information will be used in case the crime reported requires more clarification.

How we use your personal data

The data we collect will only be used for research purposes to show trends and patterns of crime in Kenya.

Sharing your personal data

- i. Your personal data may be shared to enable us to comply with the law or to satisfy a legitimate government request or an order of any court of competent jurisdiction or any regulatory authority.
- ii. Your personal data may be shared in a scenario that will enable investigation of crime.

Storage, security and retention of your personal data

The personal Data that we collect is stored on our servers which may be located outside Kenya. We implement and maintain the highest levels of security to protect any information stored on our servers and to comply with all local rules. It is your responsibility to keep your password secure. You should also be aware that the transmission of information via the Internet is not completely secure. Although we will do our best to protect your Personal Data, we cannot guarantee the security of Personal Data transmitted to our site outside our control. We strive to collect no more Personal Data than is required. This helps reduce the total risk of harm should data loss or a breach in security occur.

Contacting NCRC about privacy questions or concerns

If you have any questions about this Privacy Policy or the use of your Personal Data, please contact us by sending an email to the following address (indicating "PRIVACY REQUEST" in the message line): info@crimeresearch.go.ke. If you contact us by e-mail, we may keep a record of your correspondence and ask for your name and contact information in order to send you a reply.

Changes to privacy policy

NCRC may change its privacy policy at any time by posting the revised policy on its website and the mobile app. Any changes will become effective immediately upon being posted unless otherwise stated.
